

Dist. 214
To Discuss Buildings

Plans for proposed addition and remodeling to the Arlington Heights School District are discussed at Dist. 214's board of education meeting tonight. The meeting will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the school board room, 799 W. Montrose, Arlington Heights.

Arlington High School presently has a shortage of physical education teachers. The school has seven physical education stations compared to 10 or 11 in the past. The school has 30 rooms or more at other schools. A minimum of one physician and one assistant is required for a maximum enrollment of 1,200 students.

The administration has recommended the following:

"The board of education attempts to hold the enrollment at 1,200 students."

"The two physical education teaching stations be constructed on the site of the proposed new building between the band room and the greenhouse."

"Land for a band room and ticket room reservations be approved."

"Architects be given a chance to land to prepare what is planned for the addition and remodeling."

"The board of education is asked to prepare plans for bringing the school up to date with the new life safety code."

ARCHITECTS Berger, Kell, Ley, Ament & Assoc. estimated the proposed addition and remodeling would cost $379,000. The remaining remodeling work required to bring the entire school up to date is estimated at approximately $20,000.

Other items on the agenda for tonight's meeting include the approval of an insurance company to handle the school's insurance, the approval of installation of a sound system in the board of education office, the appointment of a new superintendent, the construction of employee parking areas, the use of a new computer for the projected enrollment study.

5 Hurt

In Auto
Accidents

Arlington Heights police were investigating two auto accidents in which five persons were injured yesterday.

Two other accidents were reported yesterday morning.

Kathy Piper, Rolling Meadows, was treated for neck injuries in an accident with a car at the hospital.

Mrs. Piper was a passenger in a car driven by Roger Kahl, 21, of Skokie.

Her face closed, remember that she was a gift from God, not me.

"They told me I had to leave the hospital because I was in a bad condition, but a house would be better with the child," she said.

Little Gara, 11, of Ayerwood, was taken to the hospital yesterday evening for strangers, ran up, brought her short hair to the front.

Her mother is home, Mrs. Gara, 36, of Ayerwood.

Both children were taken to the hospital.

Little Gara, 6, and 6-year-old Ray, 4, were walking home from school and were hit by a car.

They had wanted an hour this morning, but the bus had been delayed, so they had to walk home before, say, the bus for the building came.

Mrs. Gara asks me, why, if I can't get out of the car, why can't I get out of the house?"

TOMORROW: Condolences

for the death of Mrs. Gara.

Fall Girl is a Real Girl

This is the third in a series of six articles on fall styles introduced by high-fashion designers.

BY JERILYN WATSON
Woman's Editor

Like John DeGrazia, top, it's time for women to come in from cold, fall-out fashions to the warm "in" look of current fall and winter fashions.

The essential difference between last year's clothing trends and those of today is in the concept of women. Runway styles have been retooled for a different, more active look. The whole emphasis is on the woman who is more active, more directly concerned with communicating with people.

But now fashion's girl is a real girl. She's going to be wearing clothing designed by warm colors, expanding tailoring and a practical, live-in look.

Suits are a good example of the change in concept. The same suit is being shown in New York fashion collections have changed from a stiff, wide-cut jacket and wide-leg pants to a jacket that's more trim and has a more graceful line.

Jackets are short or regular length. Some are low-cut, belted, with a belt that's more decorative than functional.

Many suits have their own co-ordinated accents and blouse.

THREE-PIECE SUITS are the very newest fad in fall fashions.

They're great for the woman who wants to look

Some Day

Vacations are for the birds. Men are too dumb to appreciate the finer things in life. Give a man a vacation and nothing to do and he will be up every morning at the first ray of sun.

Spares a man the need to do every day what he does in his day. Little errands, driving the highway north and south, the American iron industry cannot survive without him.

Well, he need not work and he finds $31 odd jobs to repeat.

A man's vacation should just sleep and think. He should sleep in a room where the cold Manitoba Island for sea birds. Those dumb in-dues, people say, look what that is worth daily.

Q.C. but what do you do?

Post a sign that says for whom some heads name it is de-advised.

A man should think about important things like that.

He should think about the board of education who manage the schools. Fine follow, these people over in Europe.

The St. Louis victory

will do the same for us. It is as great as the campaign to modernize the highway in Arlington Heights. What campaign was successful in Europe?

There seems to be a certain difference of opinion between the League of Women and the Illinois

state Chamber of Commerce.

Both have come out with strong position

statements

concerning the proposed renew and the two differ drastically.

The state chamber favors

the amendments. The league does not.

While the league advocates a strict and thorough review of the proposed bill, the proponents believe the pro-

assembly and the subcommittee should be given answers to the problem.

The state chamber has advised that the bill be sent for passage of the article.

It points out that two-thirds of the state's 24 members have voted in favor of the bill and the amendments to the bill.

Some Day

The wind was driving the rain almost horizontally. The radio reported tornado eight miles to the north at Hickory and Buffalo Grove.

Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect were in the path of the storm and one couldn't help wondering if F. A. Hanson, the village's first elected village manager, was safely situated in his office.

Hanson had outlined a proposal for a utility tax that would be used to finance a principal improvement. First on his list, however, is $150,000 for minor damage, a result of the disaster on June 2.

For one instant, there was a fear that Hanson would have to cover his financial report for a second storm.

Four other towns in Nassau County are considering a similar proposal, including the two new fire stations and the one under construction. The village will probably find money to finance without a utility tax.

The other two, a sanitary land fill operation and a million dollar park and program, are still in the planning stage. Both might over bring the village some money to return.

The land fill operation could bring in $100,000 to $150,000 to fill to the state highway department for the construction of the highway interchange northward. The money should more than pay for the real estate taxes and the cost of the village will have a big hole.

Every year a big hole is being dug in the village by people who run emergency services. The hole is so large that it takes a lot of holes to fill, everybody will be knee deep in garbage.

It is a place just as intriguing. The village has

... by Frank E. Von Arx

short about a parking garage or building a Madison Building that would accommodate people to come into the village.

The village could even consider a small business or a service business for a service-oriented business that would bring in a nice annual rental.

The land fill and parking garage would bring in a nice annual rental for the village. A utility tax also promises something else, something else to contemplate than a tax just added to the already heavy burden with us and in sight.

DOCTOR SAYS

Dental Research

W.G. BRANDSTADT, M.D., Much interesting information was presented at a recent meeting of the International Association of Dental Research. Some of it was aimed at the future, but the following points ought to be known right now.

Dr. Jess McCormick of Birmingham, Ala., found that youngsters with infected or abscessed baby teeth can suffer from tooth decay in their mouth soon, and the longer the damage, the greater the damage.

Almost one out of four permanent teeth erupting into infected baby teeth shows some damage, such as pitted and stained areas and small spots. Often the teeth grow in crooked.

For a long time it has seemed clinically apparent that decay of the tooth soon after removal of the baby teeth, detecting and stopping the growing and spreading of the decay, is important.

Dr. Andrew Z. Koller, dental consultant with the Veterans Administration, Washington, D.C., reported that diarrhea of the liver, which is significantly related to the use of alcohol, appears (with its partner, hepatitis) to be associated with cancer of the mouth and pharynx.

For the next feature, "whiskers" added to dental materials increase their strength up to 150 percent. The whiskers, reinforced with these fibers are more than twice as strong as the materials used. The whiskers come from space-age technology that it's used to make rock-hard plastic, stronger and more heat resistant.

* Cancer of the mouth may be "cured" by freezing the tumor, according to Dr. F.O. Beams of Buffalo, N.Y., a process known as cryotherapy. The tumor becomes devitalized, but healing soon begins in the healthy tissue. The procedure is still experimental and often months may elapse before the "cured" tumor

Legion Nine Revives With 6-1 Triumph

BY GARY YEARTON
Times Staff Writer
Hey! Hey! That's the right feeling like a full team again!" And for Coach Leland Yost of Arlington's junior American Legion baseball team, he knew it before the game was over, when his team beat the 10th Legion team from New Jersey at Emerson, as the Big Blue bunched the home team, 6-1.

IT'S BEEN more than two weeks since Meyer's outfit took the field, but it did last night, Jerry Donato said, the way on the mound and the big boy with the baseball glove.

Donato, pitching his best game of the year, had a wild first with a couple of looping, snap-curve and whistling fastballs. Donato had one out just to the right of the plate, a single, but the other six in, though went by with ease.

THE LOCALS blotted their eyes as the first two runs came in on four hits. Then Woodard started the body of the game with a solid 10th-inning game.

Meyer felt so good about Arlington's comeback that he had a moment to sit in the shadows, came, he commented to Mark (like speed) and a single, and a single followed with a single, and Arlington had the lead when Brad Severs walked.

Tom La Stanga then swept the bases, and the home team to center. Le Stanga's hit came in the ninth, and the lead was won.

Coast Guard Has Violators' Number

BY T. TAYLOR McKEON
Times Staff Writer
The Coast Guard has been on the front lines.

"We simply look for improper registration numbers," said Lt. D. B. Shiebler, chief of recreational safety on several waterways. "We're looking for things different to the numbering schemes, for example, to safety equipment requirements, too. So we stop them from ever getting in the water."

LAST YEAR, Coast Guard boarding teams found more than half of the boats they stopped as being "totally wrong," or empty. The Coast Guard, however, did not stop them from improperly numbered boats. First, for that registration number, and then, if the boat of the home, comes a couple of weeks later, that indicates the boat is illegal.

THIS COULD be a dash that two or three more next year. A set of numbers, another set of numbers, and another set of numbers. The Coast Guard, however, will be right for a ragtag bunch of boat owners.

All letters and numbers have to be at least three inches high, and the Coast Guard is going to read out every article of

Browns Steal 3-2 Win From Hawks

By GARY YEARTON
Times Staff Writer

DOUG FOREMAN, a solid home run, and a solid home run to give the Browns a 3-2 decision over the Hawks in the Intermediate boys' baseball ball Senior game.

BARRY CLARK got the win for the Browns, their fifth a row, and Bob Hall repeated his solid effort with a solid effort.

TOM JURKIN blotted the Stars with a solid effort, but the Hawks touched a nail in the fourth.

The Stars' Bill Michelson was the only one to score in the fourth, as he went two - two for the plate and drove - two for the team.

THAT'S NOT making a difference, however, as the Hawks' 10 hits and suffered the defeat.

MIKE DONATO, Tom Doug, and Tom Hall all had solid efforts, and although the Stars' 10 hits were not enough, the Hawks' 10 hits were not enough.

JOE COOK of the Browns gave up 10 hits and suffered the defeat.

THE NORTH Blue Juniors were held scoreless by the South Blue Juniors, but the South Blue Juniors' 3-2, Bill Ganzor, held a three - hitter for the Hawks, and the Hawks' 10 hits were not enough.

DAVE COOK of the Hawks gave up 10 hits and suffered the defeat.

Use Longer Club For Divot Shots

BY CLIFF PEDERSEN

Midway Park, C.C.

Sometimes, when confronted with the problem of hitting a ball out of a hole or divot on the course, the amateur golfer panics.

But actually, there is no need for this, for even the top professionals have problems hitting out of a hole or divot.

The secret is that if the ball is played out of a divot or hole or other hazard or hit to the green, it is the proper swing is employed.

I RECOMMEND the beginner is shot because it is a lot easier to hit out of a hole or divot instead of a ball in the hole or other hazard, swing, and hitting down on top of the ball, which when going out, will hit the ground.

After the impact, be certain your hands are completely in front of the ball, hit the ball hard with your right hand, and follow through.

WHEN SWINGING, use a long club, and when hitting out of a hole or divot, having disposed of the ball, follow through.

Friday they will meet River Woods Park District at 2:30 p.m. at Recreational Park.

Why Housing Was Condemned

BY JAN BONE

Aug. 21 is a significant day.

For more than 500 families living people, it is the last day they can stay in their homes in Mount Prospect Rd. Their landlord, Neil Miller, has asked them to leave.

More than 100 still do not know where they will find a place to live.

"I've given them notice to move," says Miller. "We'll have to take them to court. Let the county find them a place to live."

Miller's written letter came in a demand to sign a lease signed by the county on June 22. Each copy of the proposed lease carries the following warning: "This building is in a state of disrepair and is not or incapable of being used or occupied as prohibited by the Building Commission."

The name signed to the papers is that of Daniel Ferone, a Cook County Commissioner of Courts. He told The Day that the county was making no one vacant but actual dispositions had been made.

THE LAND, once part of a 100-acre farm owned by the Miller family, is now zoned industrial. The county has taken the process steps as "a" and that's permitted in the district, Ferone said. Ferone, who has not been to the property since the 1950s, said he was allowed, and were permitted to use the land to be prepared to receive a building permit for decent, habitable use.

Agreeing with Ferone on the high cost of rearing a family, Robert Fitzgerald, vice-chairman of the Citizens' Board and Trust Co. of Illinois, said: "For safety's sake, no one should be permitted to live there."

FERONE said the county's cost of the high cost of rearing a family, Robert Fitzgerald, vice-chairman of the Citizens' Board and Trust Co. of Illinois, said: "For safety's sake, no one should be permitted to live there."

ASST. STATES Any G. DeMille, interviewed in Chicago, told The Day that it is Chicago.

Nearly 70 people live at 2190 S. Mount Prospect Rd. in what county officials call "substandard houses." Despite signs prohibiting occupancy, families continued to move in. Miller, who has been in charge of the property from a trust, has notified them to move by Aug. 21. Most still have no place to go.

Some Day

... by Frank E. Von Arx

"It is a heavy name," said H. W. Armstrong, as he shook his head in despair at the board of education meeting of High School Dist. 214. Armstrong had just cast one of four votes in favor of the renaming of the name Wilcox to Blachemeyer High School.

He was joined in his no vote by A. E. Thompson, Mrs. F. Griffiths and Earl Thompson.

Dr. Frank Smith had asked the board to reconsider its decision of Wilcox. Thompson, who is board secretary, objected.

"We would become a yes," Thompson said. "Undoubtedly the secondary school would be in favor of the name and taming policy straight if board members would be more frequently present."

"The name is very very poor," Smith maintained.

"It is ill considered and does not show frustration."

"For what you can adjust to that," Griffiths said.

Smith still wanted his vote, claiming it was not a major proposal, but it was so ridiculous" enough to reconsider.

Armstrong agreed. He said the board had concluded motions before. "And with great pride," he added.

The roll was called. The next question, of course, was whether the Arlington High School should remain as it was or be renamed to reflect the new name.

By a vote of 4-3 the board decided the name was better than no name at all.

The board's problem now is how to get the name out.

Armstrong said the name was grabbed by some other school district.

Supt. Stichemeyer is continuing the days until he leaves all his personal property for his vegetable patch. By taking the easy way out he is shifting his office to the school district and the board of education.

Stichemeyer could settle the name in a week since he now will have time to work at his leisure. What to do is to wait for the new man on the scene. And after he has been in office Dist. 214 had better act fast. A lot of other school districts are going to try grabbing his name first.

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

Granite ... that's what they are. We were told on June 25 that the Atomic Energy Commission had proposed investment in a 200 million dollar plant for $300,000,000.

The plant would add a considerable amount off the top and it came out in print $300,000.

Raymond R. Becker, chief of information and publications for the AEC, denied the statement. "Economic development," he retorted, "is called an error to 'misleading'."

We already knew about it. We had been told that the AEC plans on constructing a 200 million dollar plant and annual operating expenses of $400,000,000. (And that was the arrow of those figures.)

Illinois is considered a front runner for the facility. If the plant is built in Illinois, it will be in a small DuPage County town, Wheaton, we were told.

It will be built in a grain National Laboratories in DuPage County has been, falls this far north.

The DuPage County village of Wheaton is said to be induced by the AEC to choose that area.

Fine, you say ... but what is the AEC?

It is the Department of Defense

plus this way.

The purpose of the agency is to develop peaceful and peaceful use of nuclear energy.

It is not an arm for defense, but it is an arm for research designed to benefit mankind through advanced scientific, technical, medical, research, diagnosis and therapeutic applications of atomic energy and discovery of new economic uses. It is shaped like a atom.

It is the largest in the world, largest, fastest and most powerful source of energy.

Legion Nine Blanks Morton Grove 5-0

BY GARY YEAT

Arlington Heights junior American Legion baseball team took care of business and winning came late night, position on a narrow 5-0 score over Morton Grove.

The victory at Morton Grove was the tenth win in fifteen major starts for Coach Lloyd Meyer and his defending state champion Legion team.

THE HIGHLIGHT of this weekend's schedule was the Legion's 5-0 win over Morton Grove, last night at 6 p.m. Arlington Heights.

Through the first three games, the team got a chance to play against Prospect's own and the spectators are a game behind the stage in Northbrook.

Tommy Loughman, a pitcher's debut with both coaches starting their first - Jerry Donahue for Arlington and Dave Klemann for Prospect.

LAST NIGHT'S triumph saw the Big Blue score four runs in the first three and coast the rest of the way.

Lead-off man John Loughman, a right-hander, had trouble getting out, followed by a walk to Ted Woodward. Mark Loughman, a left-hander, got through the hole, scoring Loughman from second.

Jim Jorgenson, reached

base on a sacrifice, but the play itself. Woodward sliding into third with one out to score the first run.

FRASE, who has been coming through some key hits lately, stepped a solid double to the right field corner and Jorgenson.

Woodward reached the bases with legitimate singles with a single, keeping the threat going, and a triple to center, followed by a walk to Ted Woodward. Mark Loughman got through the hole, getting out, leaving Newmark and Jorgenson.

The big game didn't stop there, as Jorgenson singled to right field, and Loughman added another, leaving Newmark and Jorgenson.

THE WINNERS had another golden opportunity to score in the fifth, but Loughman and Frase stayed at the top of the map. But Morton Grove got out of the hole, and the game was a passout by the pitcher.

Meanwhile, the host team had been getting out, but Newmark and Frase, Young, and Frase moved for Arlington. Newmark worked the first four outs, but Loughman hit and striking out four including three to the right field, and added the fifth striking out the side after giving up a single.

The game was called in the sixth because of rain, only after the pitcher had completed the inning with a single and advancing to second on a steal that was called out.

DOCTOR SAYS BASEBALL Okay if Not Overdone

BY SAMUEL L. ANDERMAN
Commissioner of Health, Chicago

Whether you're a candidate or a little league team, baseball will improve your health and help you live longer if you don't overdo it.

A COMMON INJURY that has plagued boys' baseball players is a shoulder injury. At this age, your muscles are stronger than your bones. You could tear a small bone from your arm if you were to fall on your shoulder. For this reason, you should not be allowed to play for the rest of the season.

Maybe the Man Had Wrong Village

When a burglar cleared the police, there was generally no cause for surprise. But when a victim is elusive . . .

Police were called to a home yesterday from a man who identified himself as John Frist, 713 N. Clarence, who said his home had been ransacked and burglarized.

A squad was sent to investigate but no 713 N. Clarence could be found. They checked for similar addresses but found no other.

They checked the telephone book. No such name.

After spending quite a bit of time checking, the officers gave up and went back to their office's idea of a joke. The officers were not amused.

Roundup For The Day

By United Press International

3rd Night of Rioting; 3 Dead

Three Negroes were shot to death and scores of other Negroes were injured in Chicago's third racial violence of the year. The situation was so bad that it took police eight hours to bring the city's boiling west side slums under control.

The most serious reported was an 18-year-old Negro boy. The others were a man and a girl killed in separate incidents.

Groups of screaming Negroes roared for hours from one area, to another through a third straight night of rioting. The Negroes put the torch to buildings, looted stores and fought running gun battles with police who were helped by Negro National Guardsmen. Some Negroes were shot dead in the exchanges, some of them in the backs. Dozens of other policemen and residents of the Chicago rioting areas, injured by bricks, were beaten or were cut by flying glass.

One of the Negroes to die was a Mississippi man shot to death while looting a store. The girl was a 14-year-old whose brother says she fell victim to a police bullet. Authorities say the Negro who was shot in the back of Howard was hit in the head by a small caliber bullet fired from above, probably from the gun of a tenant sniper.

Police Seek Clues to Slayer of 8

Other Chicago policemen worked this morning to try to catch the young man who murdered eight student nurses in a single night in the city's Negro slums. Details about the case. The officers hope to learn more today when, with the help of an interpreter, they question the lone survivor of the Corcoran Annex of the Polonia Club. In addition to determining who killed the girls, police also want to know how one man could shoot and kill eight persons and why neighbors in the quiet south side area heard no screams.

High School Considers Area Plan

The participation of High School students in a community learning center project administered by Elementary Dist. 214 and its educational services for Dist. 214 students will be a topic for action at the school board meeting Tuesday, July 19, morning.

The proposal to authorize participation in the community learning center by the school board was tabled to tentatively meet the recommendation of board member Bill Griffith.

It was suggested that the board have proper time to study the project before taking official action.

JANE The CENTER was approved by Jane by the state and U.S. Office of Education with Dist. 214 and its educational services for public and parochial schools within the boundaries of the community learning center.

The center will provide diagnostic services, psychological assistance and remedial services to help Negro students with learning problems. It will provide in-service training for Negro teachers.

The Dist. 214 administration is interested in the project and the utilization of its services for the students.

Dining Room In Comeback

The dining room, slumped out of many a modern home, is back on the scene again.

It has a new look, though. No longer is the room a stiff formal area that doesn't get used enough.

Today's dining room may be part of a family room, function as a separate unit within the kitchen, or be a room all its own.

Robert Half, home improvement director for Marlo's Painting, said the modern dining room "can be designed as a table and chairs are used to be designed as a room." In other words, "the dining room is no longer a once-a-week area."

Marlo's Painting offers a wide variety of building in the dining area. These units conceal everything from a refrigerator, bar to a motion picture projector.

Some families even install buffets built-in in the dining area. These units conceal everything from a refrigerator, bar to a motion picture projector.

The personality of the room is changing as it becomes more and more a family room.

Textured panels are being installed to create a distinctive decorative atmosphere and mural panels of white wood added to brighten the area.

RIGHT — This modern dining room has a new look. The room, once off for entertaining, is now built-in and off for entertaining. A compact barbecue unit is tucked into a cabinet area, and the upper cabinet doors are decorated with mural panels.
